THE SHAMROCK

I expect to pass through this world but once. Any good
therefore that I can do,
or any kindness that I can
show to any fellow creature,
let me do it now. Let me
not defer or neglect it,
for I shall not pass this way again.

Glenna,
I must say the best in life. I have certainly enjoyed having you in my class. I deeply appreciate students like you.
I only wish I had more
of them.
Thanks for the honor of writing

The Shamrock
for 1957

Dedication

As our sponsor for the past three years she has worked steadfastly with loyalty and patience for our class. She has encouraged us to use our time and talents to the best advantage. At times we have been a trial, but she has smiled and perhaps wondered what was to become of us.

For her sportsmanship in the classroom, indulgence of our hi-jinks, and support of our class, we the seniors, dedicate the 1957 Shamrock to Mrs. Lloyd Sanders.

The Seniors

Best Wishes for your success & Happiness.

Mrs. Lloyd Sanders Sincerely

Foreword

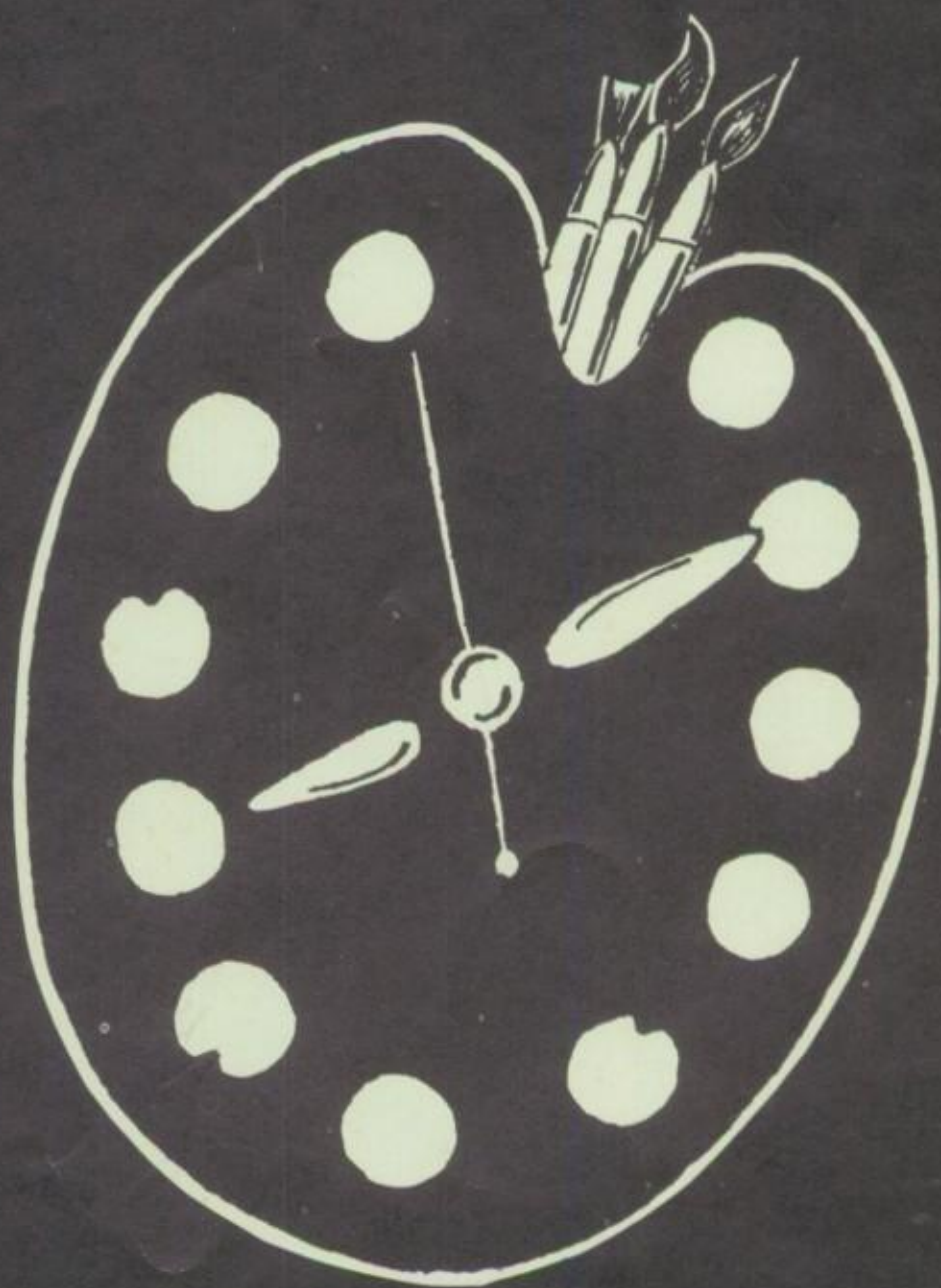

In the following one hundred forty-four pages of your 1957 Shamrock we present the faces, facts, and feelings that have made up your year, in what we believe is the most readable form.

Our action shots of curricular and extra-curricular activities, students and teachers as we see them every day, and scenes about the campus should recall to you now and in later life the who, where, when, and how of the year 1957.

The Staff

Features

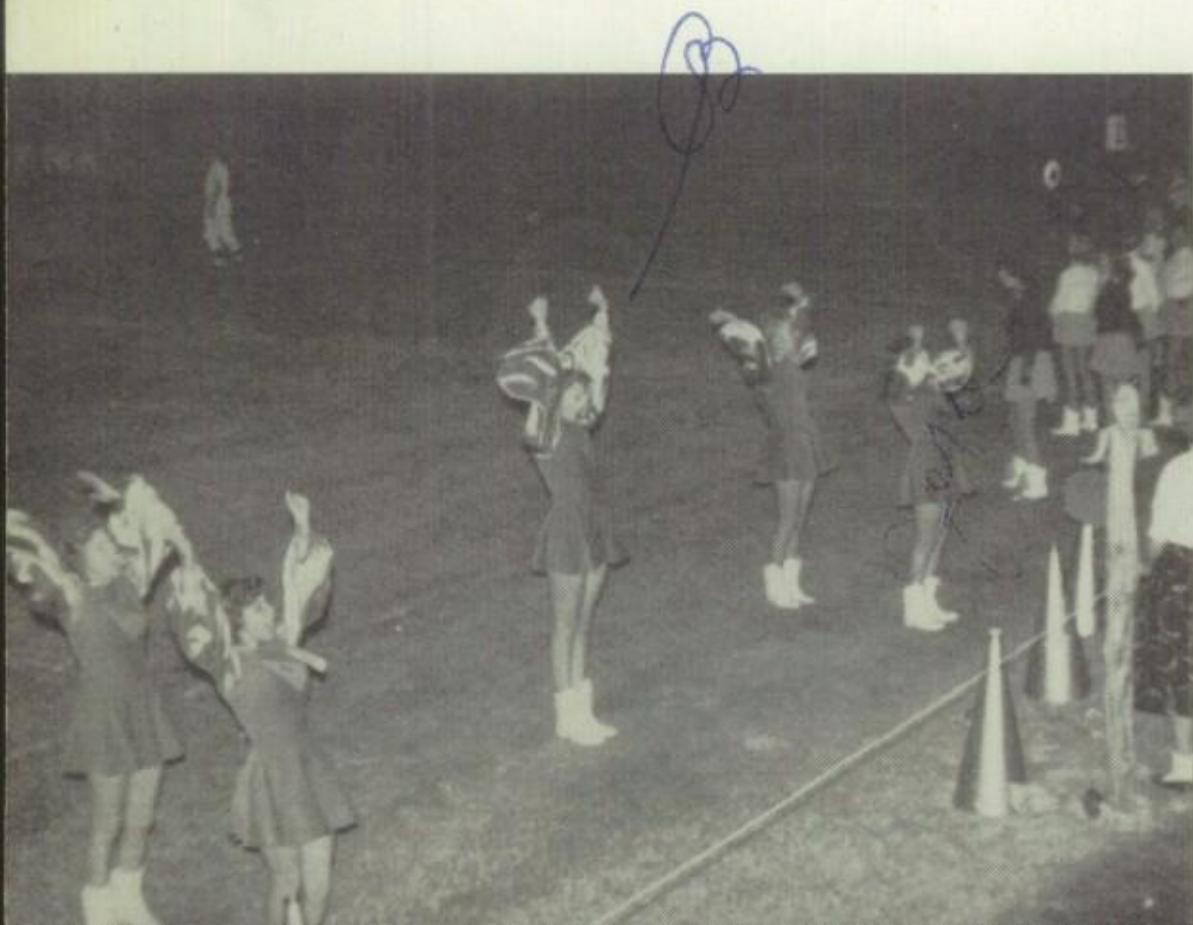

September

The band marches off the field after their performance at the half. The crowd at the football games always enjoys watching the band go through its paces.

Here members of the football team cut up on the grass before a pep rally.

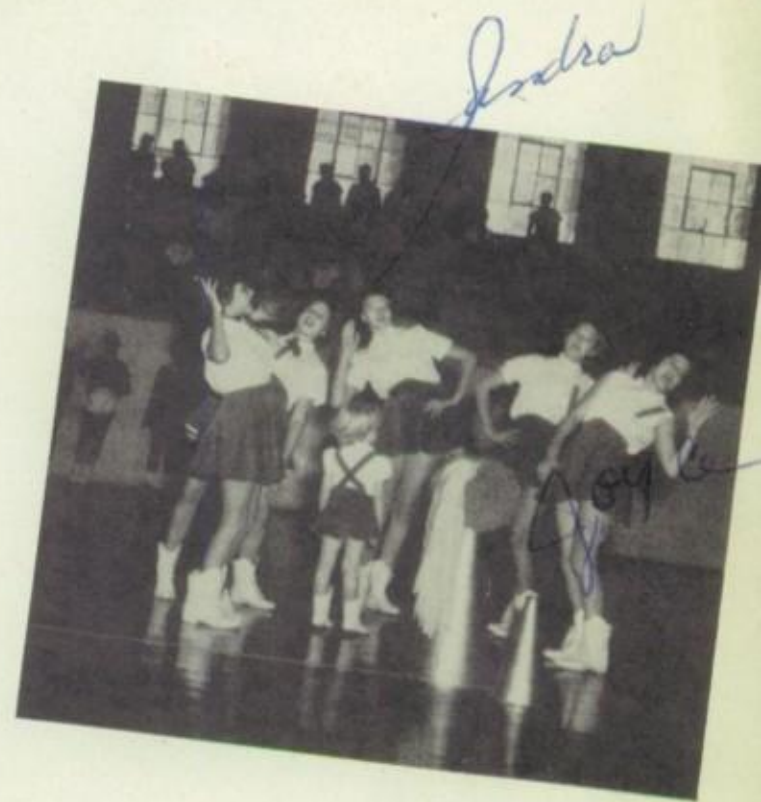

Cold winds don't seem to bother the cheerleaders as they lead their yells in front of the stands. Somehow these girls find time to sell pennants, whitewash the streets, sell corsages, have bonfires, and sponsor parties for the team after every home game.

SPIRIT

"Hip, hip, let 'er rip!", as the cheerleaders lead the pep rally held every Friday afternoon before a football game. These cheerleaders attended a school for such groups this past summer at S. M. U., and the results are evident in their unique routines and snappy yells.

The band, seen here at a pep rally, is responsible for the sound effects and music. The majorettes twirl their routines for the student body sitting opposite.

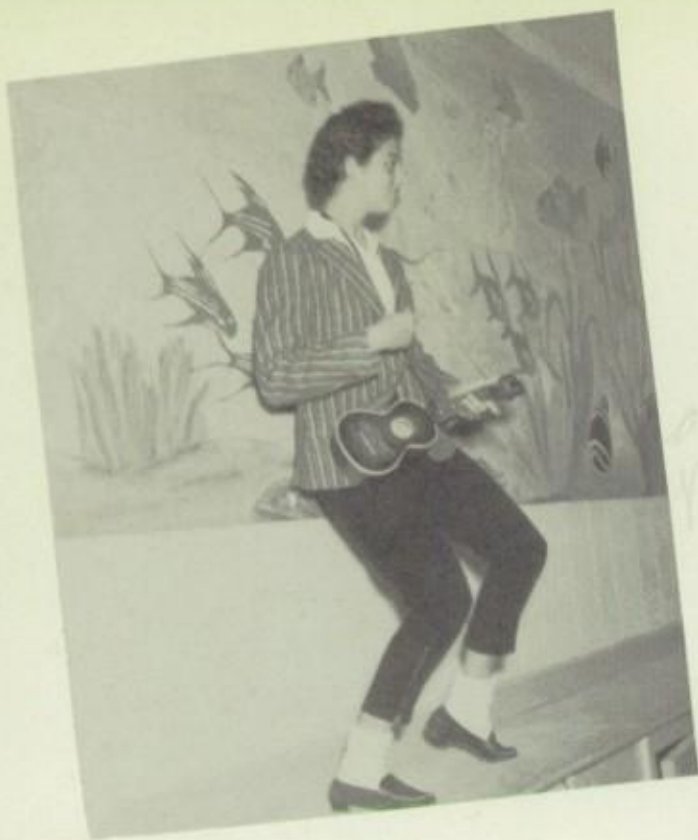

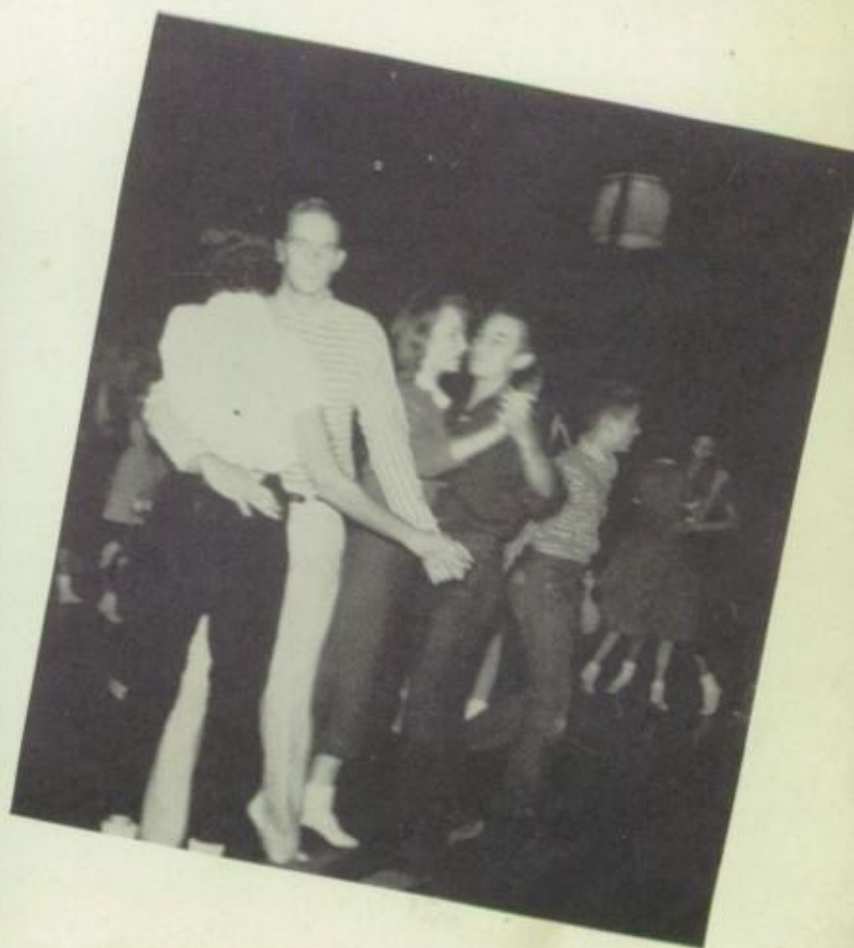

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL

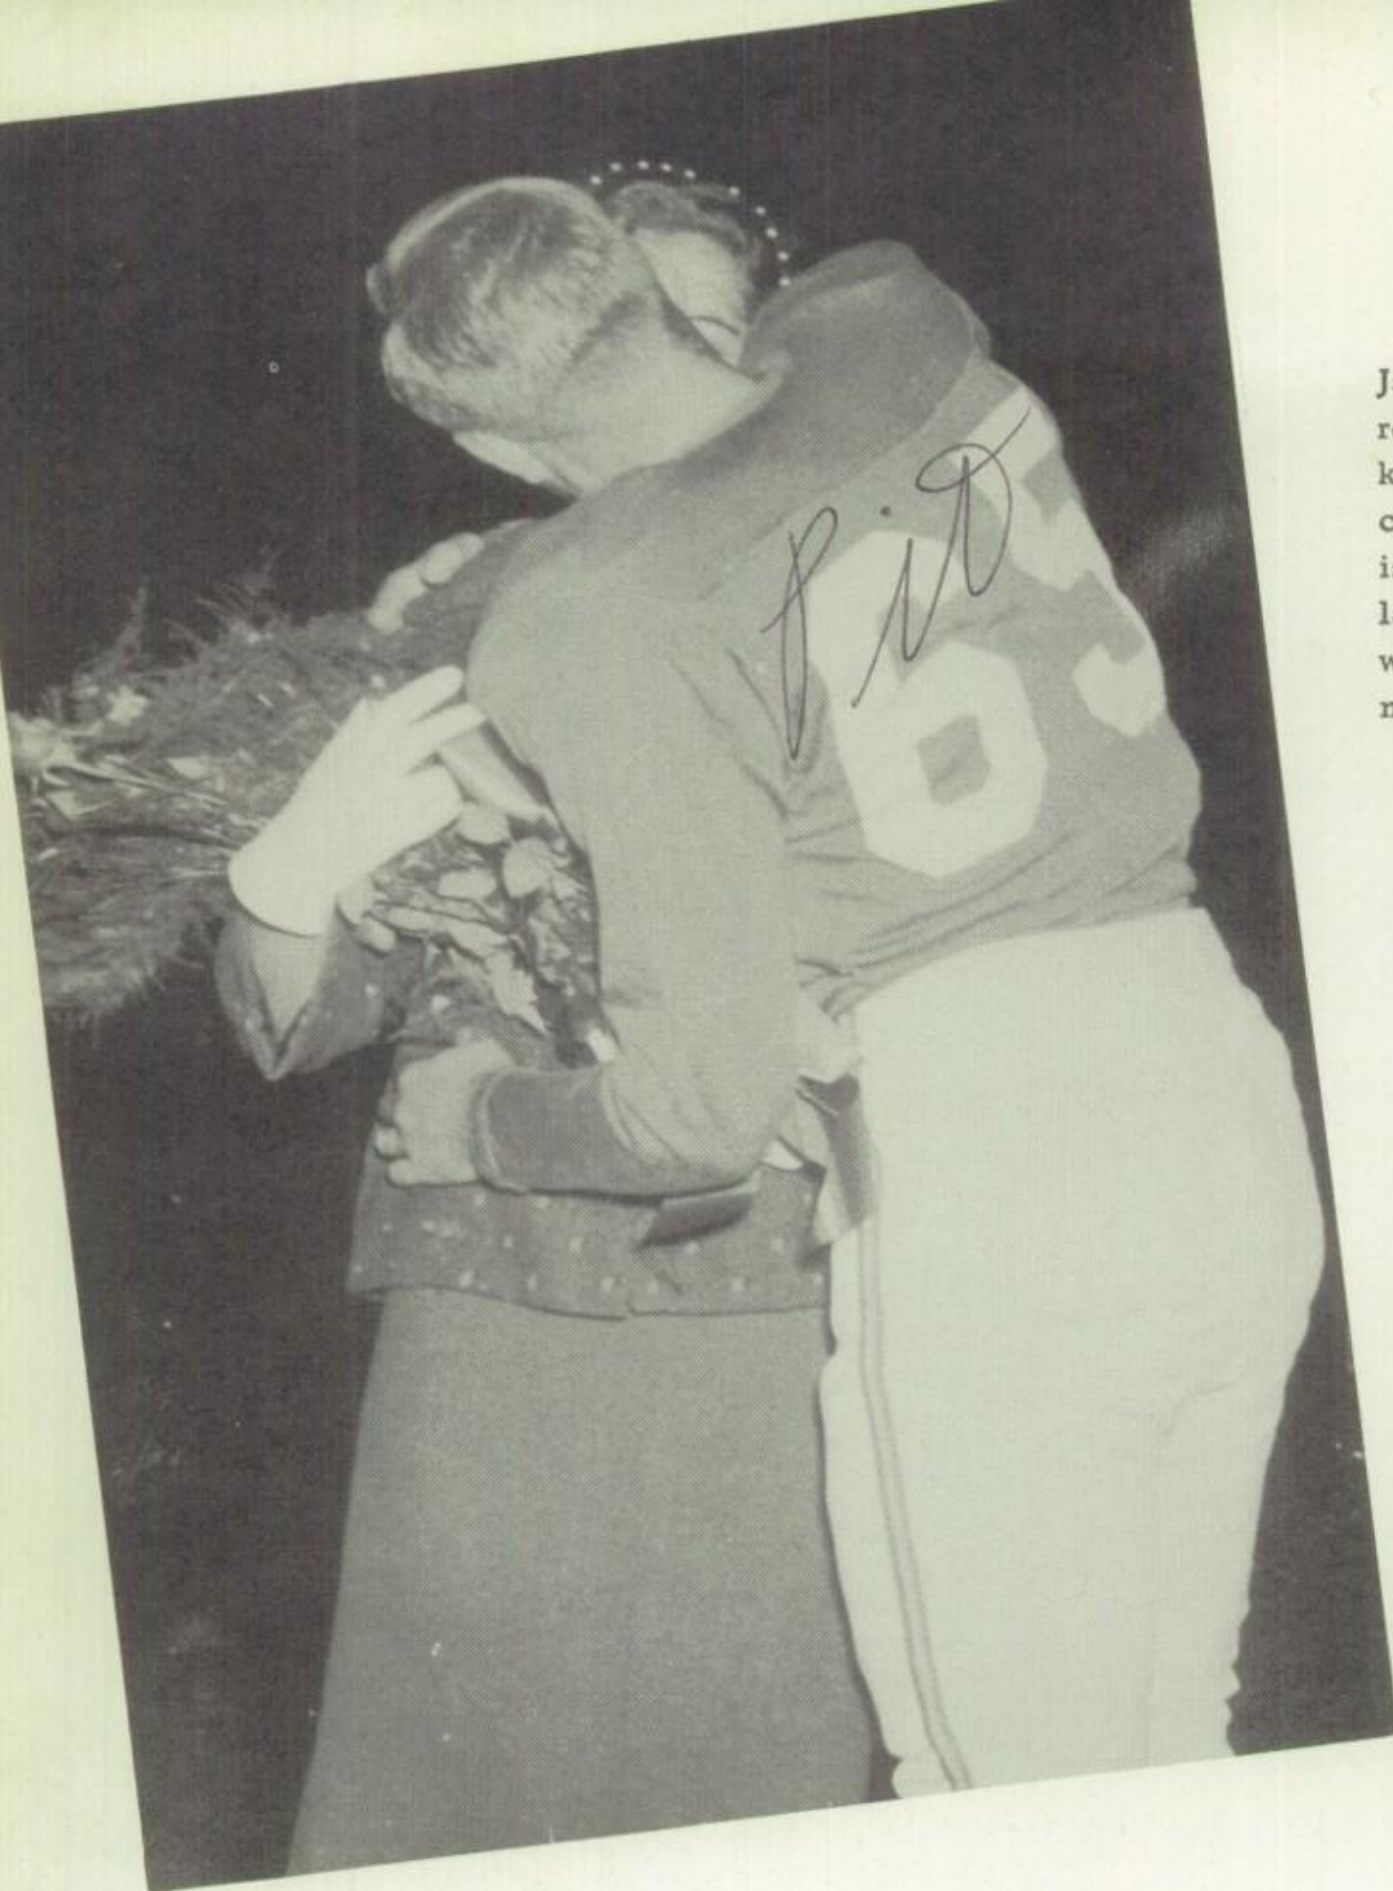

There were many irons in the fire Halloween night around D. H. S. In the gym in bare feet or loud socks many students and ex-students danced to the music of a jukebox and played games. The school and community joined forces in presenting the various activities that took place this eventful night.

Amid the smoky candle-lit darkness of the Band hall, cigarette girls served imitation cocktails as the "Green Door" played in the background. Talented high school students entertained. Ann Burrows sang in French, no less. The Harmonettes also sang several numbers. Lynda Kiker, Janyce Guyger, Sue Brown, and Zelda Gilbreath gave dance routines. But the act that stopped the show was Jan Siegel's version of Elvis Presley.

Jan Hudson, football sweetheart, receives a bouquet of flowers and a kiss from Richard Hancock, tri-captain of the football team. This is only one of the honors this popular junior girl has received. She was presented at a pre-game ceremony the night of November 9.

Homecoming

November 9, Homecoming, was a big night for D. H. S. Hot coffee was in constant demand as a cold wind blew across the stands. It was the Lions vs. the DeLeon Bearcats. In pre-game and half-time ceremonies the football sweetheart and the band sweetheart were presented to the admiring crowd. The game was followed by a big party sponsored by the cheerleaders.

Carley Smith, president of the band, escorts Gayle Baxter off the football field. Gayle, band sweetheart, was presented at the half to the crowd as the band played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." She is seen here carrying her flowers and wearing a happy smile.

Carley

A cheer goes out as the football team comes out on the field led by Phillips Granberry, a tri-captain. The cheerleaders, Pat Shillingburg, Jan Hudson, Ann Burrows, Norma Williamson, and Sandra Branum, hold a sign for the boys to run through as the stands roar.

*This was sure fun.

*It was so cold.

December

Signs of Christmas were seen everywhere as the holidays grew near. Blackboards grew gay with winter scenes like the one pictured by Jamie Compton and Carol Robbins. Mrs. Caraway's home was covered in wrapping paper as a group of senior girls met there for their annual Christmas party. The F. T. A. also had a party at her home. The annual staff presented its photographer, Dean Bradley, with a baby rattler in assembly.

In the Christmas assembly at school we were entertained by talented students. The "Sloppy Four" with it's cornet player, Paul Read, were a tremendous hit. A group of freshman girls sang several selections. On Friday before school dismissed for the holidays the football jackets arrived. That night there was a party in the city recreation building sponsored by the Student Council.

Landra

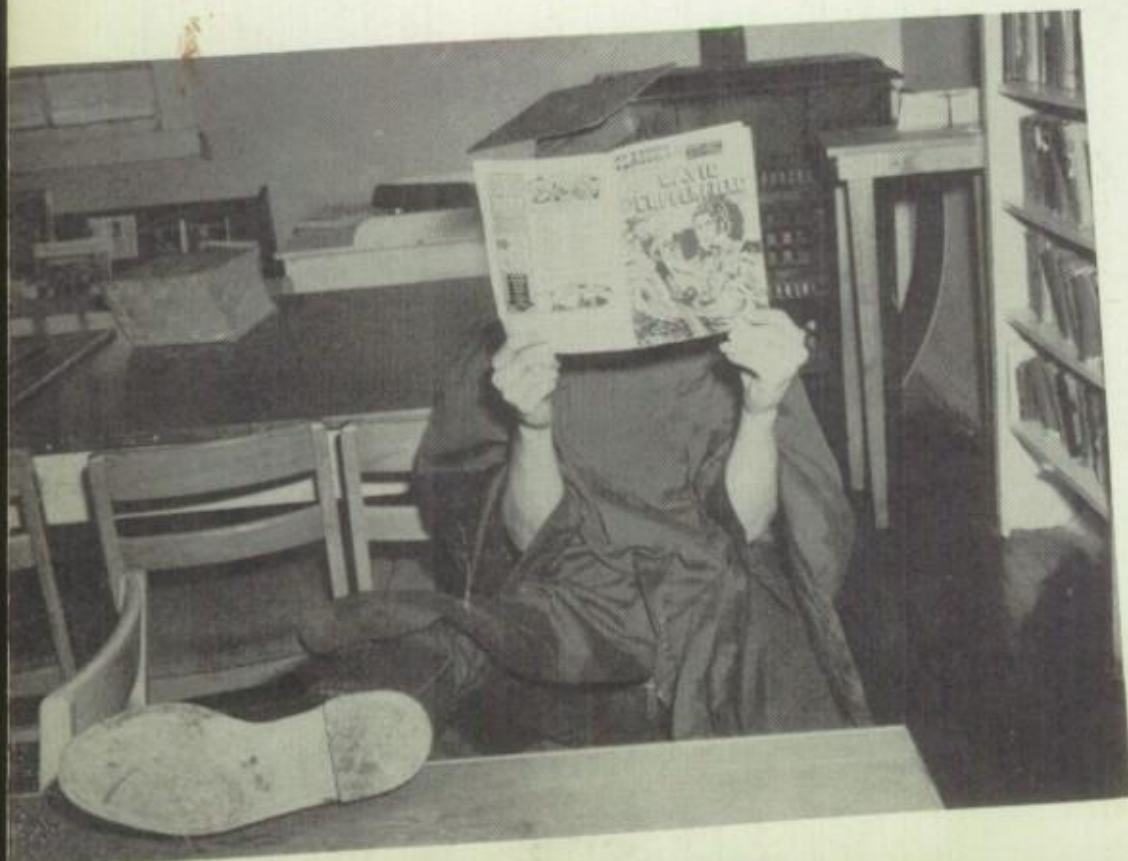

These students are members of the newly formed Dramatics Club. Here they are meeting to discuss plans for producing one-act plays for Interscholastic League competition. In the background is Mrs. Inez E. Robinson, who sponsors the group.

January

Tests are the main issue about this time, and many wails are heard as students learn that they do not meet exemption requirements. Firm resolutions are made; "I'll come to school if it kills me."

Studying hard!

A "Classic" funnybook, a cap and gown, and the informal pose, - a senior in distress no doubt trying to make those 10 required units of work for this semester.

THE LAW OF THE OLD WEST

Western Week

February 20-22

1. Everyone must wear at least three western garments.
2. Any male caught with a slick shave Wednesday through Friday will be fined and spend time in jail.
3. Anyone caught courting in daylight without permission of the sheriff will be kept away from his girl until the party Friday night.
4. Any male or female wearing make-up or jewelry of any kind will be fined. This applies to senior rings.

Court will be held promptly and the judge is the law. The laws will be enforced by the able sheriff and his deputies.

Contest winners at the party held Friday night, February 22, were Pete Cunningham, Sue Brown, and Kay Warren for best dressed, and Travis Brown for the beard growing contest.

Above, students dance at the party in western duds. The jailbirds at the right broke the law and justice was swift and without mercy.

The Student Council provides programs for assemblies, serves as a channel for the expression of student problems and wishes to the administration, interprets administrative policies to the student body, and promotes safety and co-operation in school life.

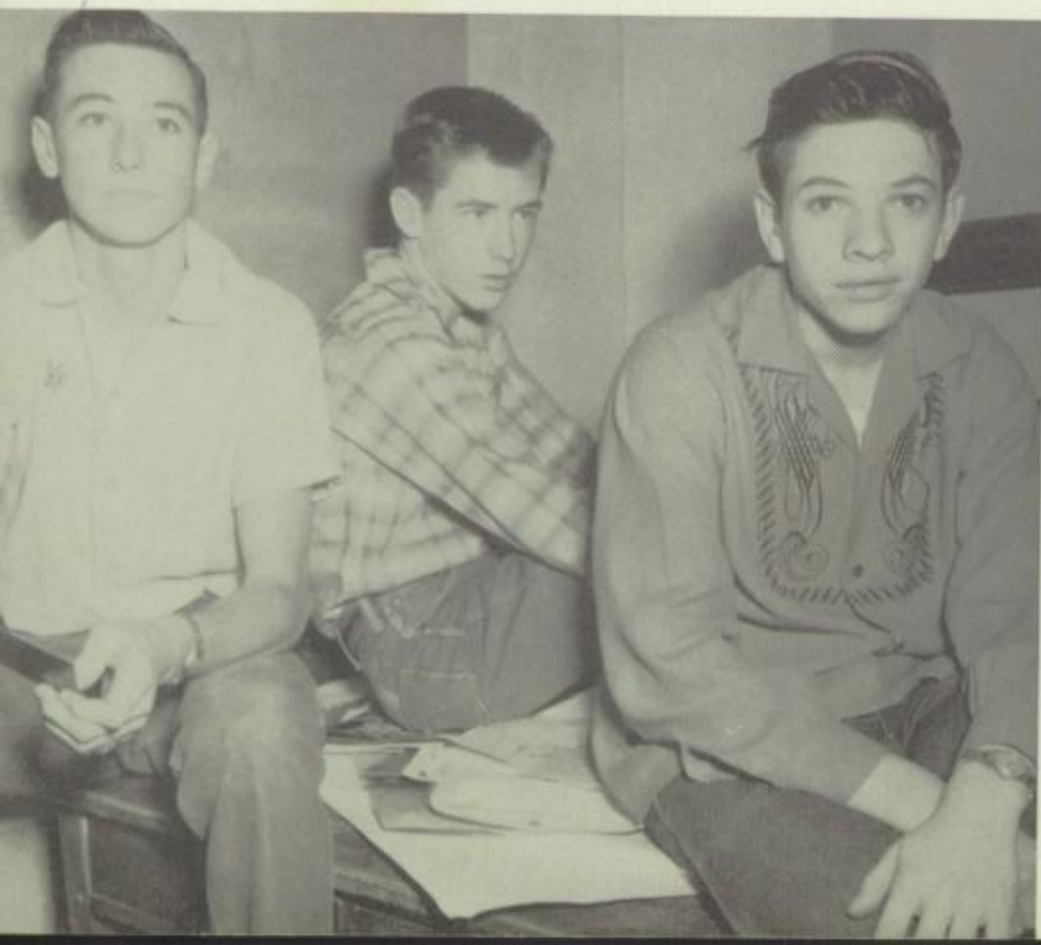

Dean Bradley, president, Vera Kite, secretary, and Kenneth McIlroy, treasurer, do their best to keep the business of the Student Council in smooth order.

Joe Pate, vice president, and the sponsors, Mr. Vernon Gibson and Mrs. Greenway bring ideas from the faculty and student body for the council to work on.

Larry Jones, Travis McPherson, and Robert Fletcher listen as plans are made for a Christmas party.

Below right, Beth Cowan, reporter, Carol Robbins, and Betty Vanderpool await the start of a meeting.

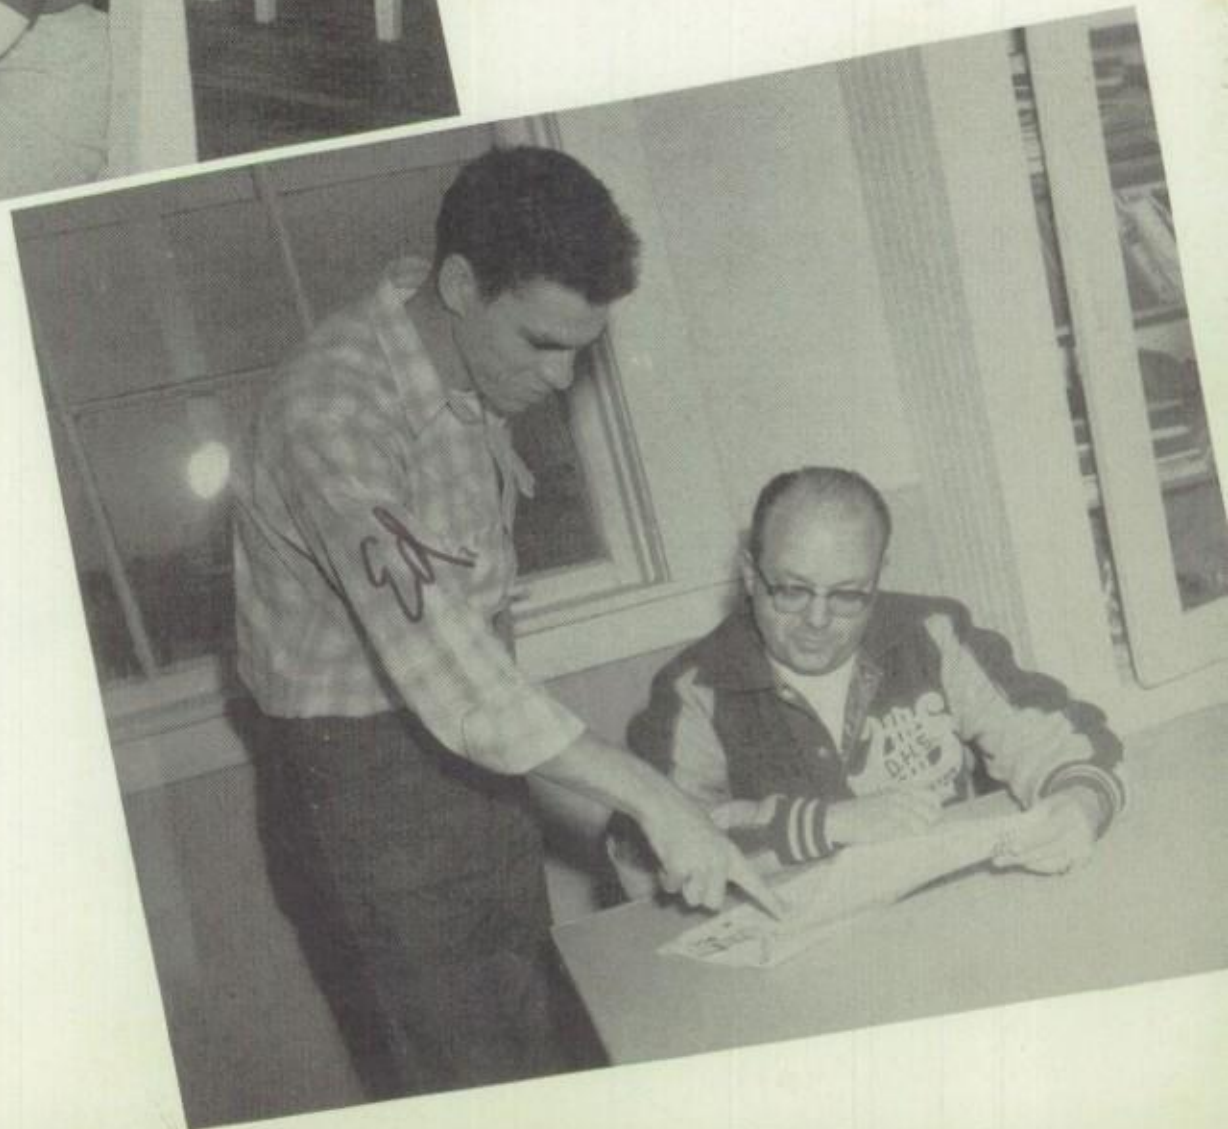

Lion's

That haggard look on the face of our loving Editor, Analene Burrows, is caused by a lot of hard work in an attempt to meet that Friday deadline.

Co-Editor, Janyce Guyger, and Business Manager, Sandra Branum, seem quite pleased over the outcome of the last sales of the LION'S ROAR.

Mr. Willis Irwin, Sponsor, and Edward Stratton, Sports Editor, have a man-to-man talk about the latest sports feature for the LION'S ROAR.

Roar

Vicki Belyeu, Campus Editor, and Tommy Gee, Feature Editor, are having a big time looking over an article of gossip they composed about a supposedly good "pal" of theirs. Goodness, such loyal friends!

Circulation Managers, Kaye Warren and Merrill Burnett, work faithfully at their job of securing school papers from various schools over the state.

Oh, Really?

Organization seems to be the keynote of the Staff, as you can surely tell by the looks of that table!

HIGH SCHOLASTICS

These students made the highest averages in high school for the first semester. Carol Robbins, taking Algebra I, general science, English I, and Homemaking I, is second with an average of $98 \frac{1}{2}$. Jamie Compton, taking Algebra I, English I, Homemaking I, and general science, is third and has an average of $96 \frac{1}{4}$. Roger Edmonds, taking biology, English II, world history, and Algebra II, is also third and has an average of $96 \frac{1}{4}$. Paula Gray, taking physics, biology, trigonometry, and shorthand, is first with an average of 99.

ENGLISH

In the library with a background of books and thoughts of Ivanhoe, The Merchant of Venice, Macbeth, Monday morning vocabulary words, notebooks, tests, and themes are the English literature students with outstanding grades in the classes they represent. Carol Robbins is high in English I with a 98. In Mrs. Caraway's English II, Dot Shafer, Travis Carr, and Billie Harvey have a high grade of 97. In English II under Mrs. Mulloy, Roger Edmonds and Kenneth McIlroy also have a 97. Merrill Burnett with a 95 is high in English III. Analene Burrows is high in English IV also with a 95.

HOME ECONOMICS

These girls -- all smiles, even while washing dishes -- have the highest grades in the homemaking classes they represent. Wilma Woods has an average of 92 in the third year class. Carol Robbins has an average of 96 in Homemaking I. Dot Shafer and Jan Siegel are tied in Homemaking II with an average of 91.

MATHEMATICS

The students surrounded by odd shapes and "technical" equipment have the highest averages in the math classes they represent. Travis McPherson, under Mr. MacVicker, is high in general math with a 93. Under Mrs. Wheatly, Carol Robbins is high in Algebra I with 100. Travis Carr and Kenneth McIlroy lead the Algebra II classes with 99. Edward Stratton and Rose Driver (not shown) have a 99 in plane geometry. Paula Gray has the highest grade in trigonometry, 100, taught by Mrs. Robinson.

*Best wishes
Carol*

SCIENCE

Working with microscopes, the micro-projector, titration equipment, light reflection, and the wheel and axle are the scientific minds of Dublin High School. High in general science under Coach Johnson is Carol Robbins with an average of 99. In Mrs. Robinson's science classes Roger Edmonds, Lynda Kiker, and Paula Gray are high with 99. Merrill Burnett with a 98 is high in chemistry. In physics, Paula Gray is high with 99.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

The agriculture students pictured here are working in the well-equipped shop in the ag building. Travis Carr with a 99 made the highest grade in Ag II under Mr. Gibson. Joe Deweese, in Mr. Gibson's Ag III class, made a high average of 95. Reginald Hammonds made 94 in Ag I taught by Mr. Dykes.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Studying a map of the world are the history students with the highest averages in the classes they represent. Roger Edmonds has a 93 in world history taught by Coach McCollumn. Under Mr. MacVicker, Wilma Woods and Welda Akin have a 93 in Texas History. Betty Hornsby has a 96 in American History.

COMMERCIAL

Mr. Raley's office is the location of a business scene of the future. In J. B. T. under Mr. Irwin, Billie Kloster has an average of 95. Paula Bell is leading speed demon in the typing room under the direction of Mrs. Sanders with an average of 98. Judy Mulloy and Johnnie McGlothlin have the highest averages in bookkeeping, 95. Paula Gray made 98 with her very short shorthand.

MRS. GREENWAY and MISS VAUGHN sign out. They teach Homemaking I II, III, and IV. This year these teachers sponsor a very large group of girls in the Dublin FHA Chapter.

MR. JACK GIBSON and MR. McVICKER talk over a coke in the gym. Mr. Gibson is an eighth grade sponsor and coaches girls' basketball. Mr. McVicker teaches American history, Texas history, and general math.

MISS LITTLEPAGE and MISS GEORGE talk over the day's events before signing out. Miss Littlepage is a seventh grade sponsor and teaches English to both the seventh and eighth grades. Miss George teaches P.E. and health to all the high school girls.

MR. WELCH and MISS PURVIS admire the flowers brought to Miss Purvis by one of her students. Mr. Welch is a seventh grade sponsor and teaches history to both the seventh and eighth grades. Miss Purvis is an eighth grade sponsor and teaches reading, spelling, and history.

year and that your memories of the class will be good ones. Best wishes for happiness and success thru your life.

Sincerely,
H. George

MR. McCOLLUM and MR. JOHNSON tinker with the projector before showing a film of one of our football games. They were our football coaches this year. Mr. McCollum also teaches world history. Mr. Johnson teaches general science.

Faculty

MRS. SANDERS and MRS. ROBINSON enjoy a coke at the break in the afternoon. Mrs. Sanders is head of our commercial department; she teaches typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping. Mrs. Robinson teaches physics, trig, biology, and chemistry.

MRS. TACKETT and MRS. MOSS feed the fish in Mrs. Tackett's aquarium. Mrs. Tackett is a seventh grade sponsor and teaches science, geography, reading, and spelling. Mrs. Moss is an eighth grade sponsor and teaches arithmetic to both the seventh and eighth grades.

MR. IRWIN and MRS. WHEATLEY exchange gossip in front of the trophy case in the front hall. Mr. Irwin directs the Senior, Junior High, and Grade School Bands. In addition he teaches JBT second period. Mrs. Wheatley teaches algebra I and II and plane geometry.

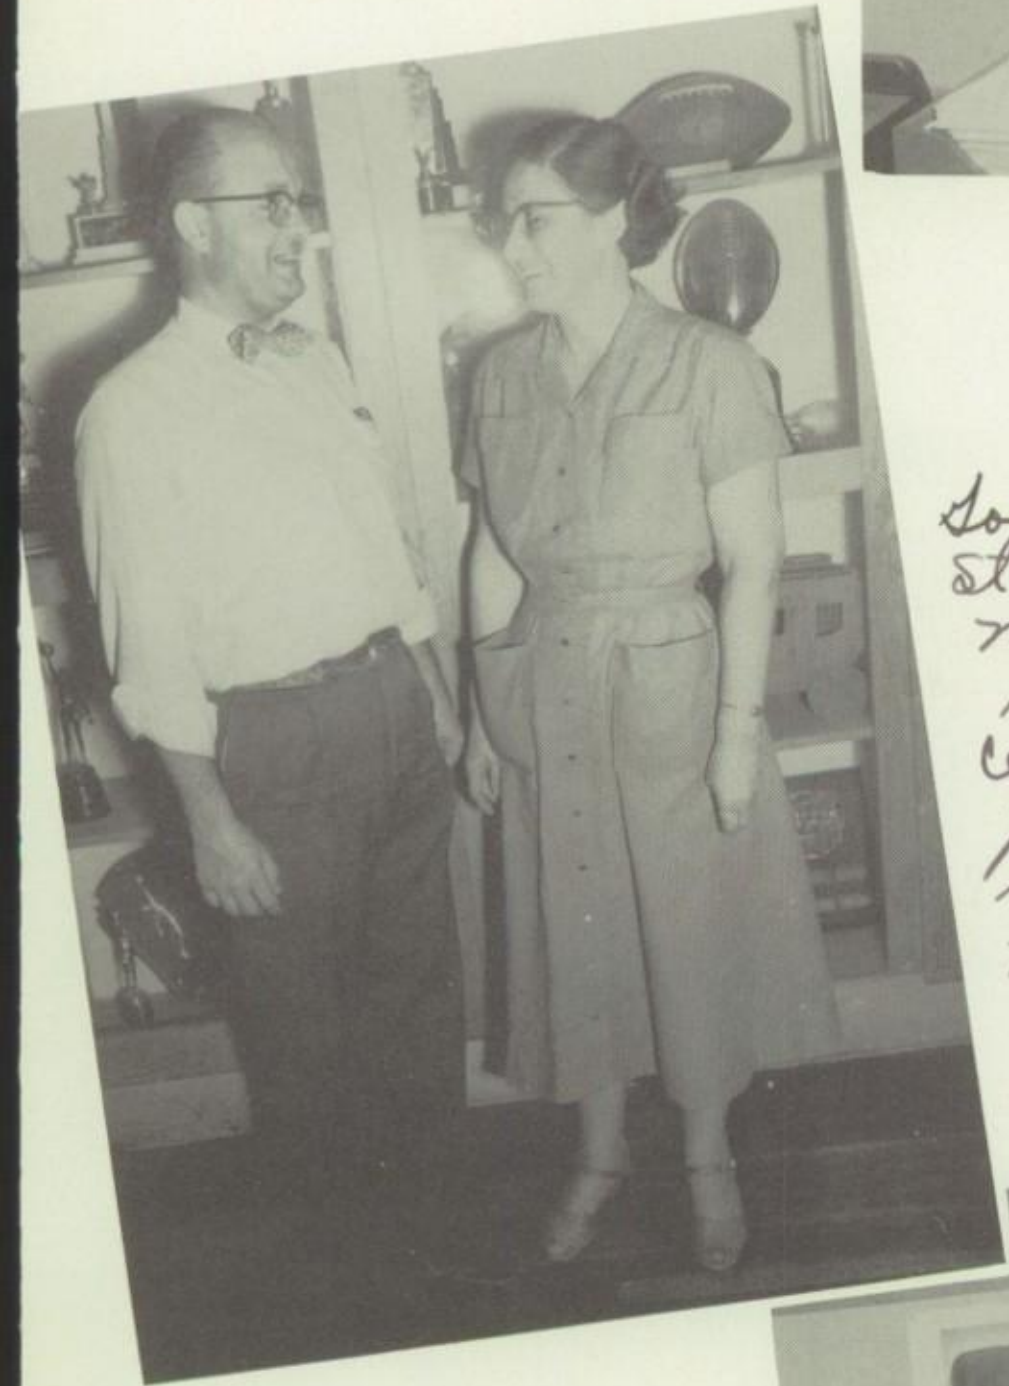

Faculty

Faculty

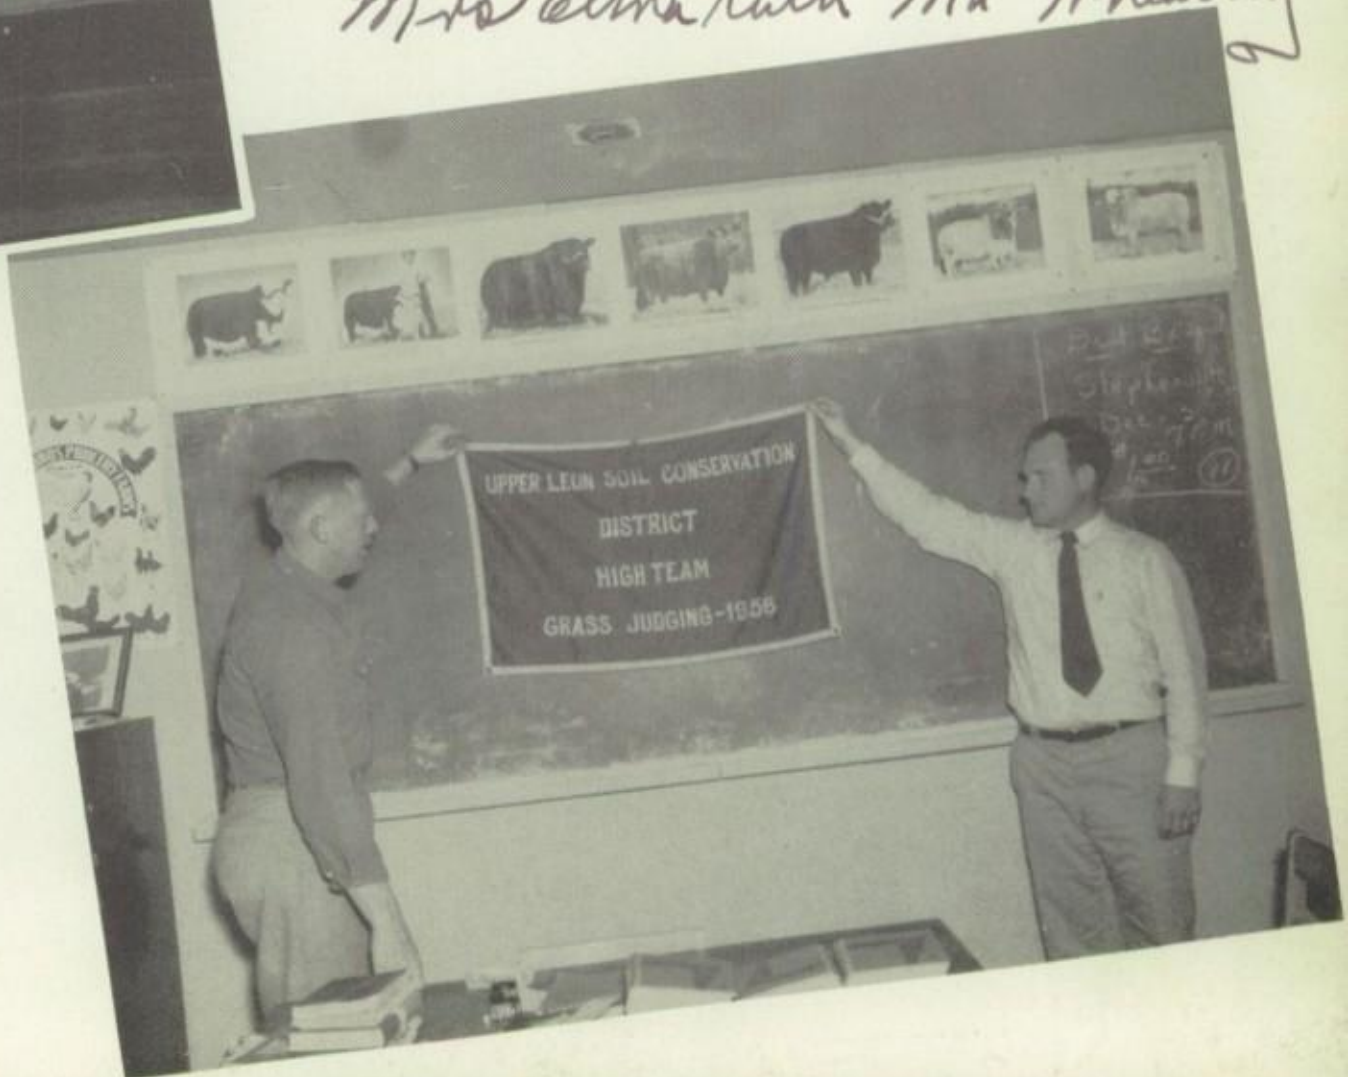

MRS. MULLOY and MRS. CARAWAY examine the all important records in their little metal boxes that tell whether a student has in his or her required work. Mrs. Mulloy teaches English II, III, and IV. Mrs. Caraway teaches English I and II.

Good Luck to a mighty nice girl. Stay the same friendly person you now are and you'll always have a host of friends. I have certainly enjoyed having you as a pupil + I do hope to have the same pleasure again. Think kindly of me and remember me as
Mrs Elma Ruth "Ma" Wheatley

MR. VERNON GIBSON and MR. DYKES proudly display the award won by the grass judging team composed of V.A. boys from Dublin. Mr. Gibson and Mr. Dykes teach Agriculture I, II, III, and IV.

"MISS ERVIE, I need a pencil and some paper," is an expression perhaps each of us has used at some time in the mad scramble to get needed supplies between classes,

MRS. SMITH is in charge of our school's books and is school secretary. She gets a lot of smiles especially when she passes out the checks to the teachers at the end of the month.

MRS. GUYGER is our lunchroom cashier. She is always ready to give us change or punch our lunch tickets.

Personnel

The lunchroom staff, MAGGIE ALEXANDER, NAN GREGORY, CLARA SONES, MARTHA SHAFER, and BONCILE WYRICK, are responsible for our menus in the lunchroom and our smiles or groans, as the case may be, when we see what they have prepared.

These gorgeous representatives of the Freshman class are not our candidates for Most Beautiful as you might think. They are some of the first year F.H.A. girls during their initiation early in October.

If this picture were in color, you would see red streaked faces and green painted hands. The Greenhands are the boys who have never taken F.F.A. before. They are initiated by those who have. The boy in the background did not really have his head cut off, but it was still pretty hard to tell who he was.

Dear Cousin,

Always strive for the

Dear Pee Wee,

Another year of School has passed. and you have climbed another rung on the ladder of Education. And each year seems to be more of an success for you. And I know each year for you will bring more happiness, as this "Twelfth Day of May" has marked another milestone in life for me, as it is Mother's Day. And someday you will experience this same day and have tender memories from the past, and plans for the future. I hope your life will be very interesting and happy. And the secret to this you know is leading a Christian life as you have been living in the past. People of this world are always ready to hand out a smart remark and to make fun, but as I am teaching my children, just have pity on them as they are hunting for something in life you already have. So May God's Richest blessings ever be upon you. I Love you
Margie Burant

I expect to pass through
this world but once. Any good
therefore that I can do,
or any kindness that I can
show to any fellow creature,
let me do it now. Let me
not defer or neglect it,
for I shall not pass this
way again.
